

WEB WATCH

In this Section, we present websites and a brief introduction about them. Inclusion of a site does not imply that School Science endorses the content of the site. Sites have been suggested on the basis of their possible utility to school systems.

- <http://www.intelligencetest.com/iqtest/index.html>
This website involves several IQ tests, which are ideal for measuring differences in abilities for tasks that are analytical in nature, and that is why scores show significant correlations with academic achievement.
- <https://www.braingle.com/>
Braingle is a place to solve puzzles, brush up on your trivia, play games and give your brain a workout. A large number of activities that include brain teasers, riddles, logic problems and mind puzzles are there in Braingle.
- <https://www.funbrain.com>
Funbrain offers hundreds of games, books, comics, and videos that develop skills in math, reading, problem-solving and literacy. Educators and parents can trust this site to provide a fun and safe experience both at home and at school. Funbrain does not collect personally identifiable information from kids.
