

WEB WATCH

In this Section, we present websites and a brief introduction about them. Inclusion of a site does not imply that School Science endorses the content of the site. Sites have been suggested on the basis of their possible utility to school systems.

- <https://www.howstuffworks.com>

HowStuffWorks creates great content that can live on just about any platform. This website is reliable, easy-to-understand answers and explanations of how the world actually works.

- <https://www.testmybrain.org/>

TestMyBrain aims to engage and collaborate with citizen scientists throughout the world by providing measurement tools that allow people to engage in science and learn about themselves.

- <https://kids.nationalgeographic.com>

Nat Geo Kids inspires young adventurers to explore the world through award-winning magazines, books, apps, games, toys, videos, events, and a website, and is the only kids brand with a world-class scientific organisation at its core.

- <http://www.makemegenius.com>

The purpose is to spread science education, to make it easier and to make it accessible to everybody. The site involves several science videos for kids, cool facts, educational power-points, jokes, see and learn science videos and most important Science Test, Quiz, Questions.
